Citing Your Sources

There are particular formatting rules, called “styles”, for formatting other people’s work within your paper and in a bibliography at the end of your paper. The citation styles and style manuals used by different departments at Limestone are:

- Biological, Physical, and Earth Sciences: APA
- Business, Economics, and International Studies: either MLA or APA
- Chemistry: the guide “Scientific Reports”
- Computer Science: APA
- Criminal Justice: APA
- Elementary Education: APA
- History and Geography: Pocket Guide to Writing in History
- Math: no specific style guide
- Music: MLA
- Philosophy: MLA, Turabian, Chicago, or APA
- Physical Education: APA
- Psychology: APA
- Social Work: APA
- Theatre Arts: MLA
