New Online Research Databases

This past spring the Library was able to add the following databases to our Electronic Resources collection: Films On Demand is a web-based digital video delivery platform that allows you to view streaming videos anytime, anywhere, 24/7. Thousands of videos are available for in-class use and remote viewing. Subjects include: Humanities & Social Sciences, Business & Economics, Science & Mathematics, Health & Medicine, Technical Education, Family & Consumer Sciences, Careers & Job Search, and Guidance & Counseling; Research Starters - Education offers students a starting point for their research by providing comprehensive summaries of discipline-specific topics, broad outlines of a subject, and helps locate sources for researching it in greater detail. Contains articles that are more in-depth than the average textbook or encyclopedia entry.; Research Starters - Sociology provides articles that are broken down into twenty-six categories, each of which contains over between four and thirty-five article topics: aging & elderly issues, culture, history of sociology, social movements & collective behavior, sociology of religion, etc.; Journal of Social Work Education (JSWE) - the Journal of Social Work Education is an online refereed professional journal concerned with social work education and social welfare at the undergraduate, master's, and postgraduate levels.

All of our online research databases can be found at http://www.limestone.edu/research-databases.

Limestone Presidential Collections

Steve Smith, Technical Services, is close to completing the cataloging of the Limestone College presidential collections (Presidents Griffith and Lodge) as well as the collection housed in the library conference room. These books, some dating back to the 1700s, have been in the library for many decades but have just recently been entered into the online catalog.

Featured Book & Visit from Author

The Library has purchased God Sleeps in Rwanda: A Journey of Transformation by Joseph Sebarenzi. "This memoir tells the story of Joseph Sebarenzi, whose parents, seven siblings, and countless other family members were among 800,000 Tutsi brutally murdered over the course of ninety days in 1994 by extremist Rwandan Hutu -- an efficiency that exceeded even that of the Nazi Holocaust" (Amazon.com).

Mr. Sebarenzi is scheduled to speak at Limestone October 11, 2010, in the Fullerton Auditorium.

You may find the book in the library (DT450.443.S43A3 2009).
Avoiding Plagiarism Tutorial

Over the summer, the Library staff created a plagiarism tutorial titled Avoiding Plagiarism at Limestone College, located on the Library's Tutorial page (http://www.limestone.edu/library-tutorials). The tutorial is designed to help students understand and recognize plagiarism, learn how to properly document sources, teaches how to avoid plagiarism, and is currently a requirement in ID 100 courses. The library staff also created a quiz that corresponds with the tutorial. If you are interested in using the quiz in your Blackboard classes, please contact Lori Hetrick, Outreach/Public Services Librarian, for a Respondus file of the quiz and instructions on how to publish/upload into Blackboard.

Library Staff Update

Susan Moore, Public Services Para librarian, is pursuing a Master's degree from the School of Library & Information Science at the University of South Carolina in Columbia. Susan's studies will include a concentration in Academic Libraries and Archives.

College Archives & Winnie Davis Hall

The Winnie Davis Hall of History was officially dedicated in April of this year. Highlighting the history of Limestone College, displays were placed in the galleries chronicling the growth of the College over the past 165 years. Materials for display were selected from the College archives (located in the Library) and prepared by Nancy Rilling, Archive Custodian, and Susan Moore, Public Services Para librarian, for the occasion. One interesting display involved a “home movie” tour of the campus, circa 1930, which IT was instrumental in setting up.

Nancy and Susan will be working closely with Dr. Patricia A. Hoskins, College Historian, on future Winnie Davis displays and digitization projects.

New Arrivals

The latest arrivals in books (New Books), videos/DVDs (Videos), Flicks To Go, and Best Sellers can be found on the Library’s Web site at http://www.limestone.edu/library. These links and more are located in the left-hand menu bar.

Flip in the Library

The Library has a video recorder called the "Flip" on hand for faculty to use in classrooms, for live lectures, Blackboard, and more. The Flip recorder records up to two hours and lets you capture high quality videos with a push of a button! Faculty can check out the recorder for two-weeks. Check it out!

Student Copies & Prints

Students are no longer charged for black and white printing and copying in the Library.

Thanks to the IT Department for helping us with this project!
